Of course. During your consultation, design and pigment placement will be determined.